3. On-page

H1	Category Management Strategy: The 4 Ps Framework Applied to IT and MRO
Meta title	Category Management Strategy: 4 Ps Applied to IT and MRO (56 chars · 542 px). The full H1 is about 687 px, so the meta title is shortened to avoid truncation.
Meta description	A category management strategy sets long-term direction for a spend category. Learn the 4 Ps framework, with examples for IT and MRO. (133 chars · 854 px)

Additional notes

Example queries convert. The page's best CTR comes from example queries: "category strategy example" (2 clicks on 39 impressions, position 5.9), "what is an example of a category management strategy" (position 2.0), "category management strategy example" (2.1), "category management plan example" (4.5) and "category management examples" (7.9). The new title drops the word "examples", so keep it in the meta description and in an H2 ("Category management strategy examples: IT services and MRO") so those queries still match.

Unserved industry queries. The page ranks in the top 5 for "chemicals category strategy" (326 impressions) and around 12 for "utility category management" (306) with 0 clicks, and ranks 60 for "oil & gas category strategies" (526); pharma and R&D variants add about 180. A short "Category strategy by industry" section with links to the vertical pages would serve them.

Claims to confirm. Confirm that the 4 Ps framework is JAGGAER's own before featuring it in the title and templates, and have Product Marketing review any capability described.
